HOW TO PLAY!

Try this memory game for 2 players. You play with 2 decks: one yellow and one blue. Each player chooses a deck, shuffles it and places it facedown on the table. The youngest player starts the game.

During the first turn, the first player draws a card from the deck (for example, Anger), calls it out loud, and then hands it to the opponent, who keeps it covered in his/her hands. The other player does the same.

From the second turn and on, players take turns drawing cards from their decks, calling them out loud and handing them to the other player. But before completing their turn, they must name each card already handed to the opponent. The opponent will discard all the cards that weren't named. After all cards have been drawn from both decks, the winner is the player who has lost the fewest cards (the ones discarded by the opponent).
